

Might as Well

Song by Nicholas Karr and Scott Wozniak, Lyrics transcribed by 44nifty

It's our time to prove our worth

By saving the world, save this frameless Earth

And when we do, we'll rub it in the faces of our gov'ment

How could you tax a hero's quest?

Just take that IRS!

We gotta save the world, we gotta save the day

I know you all don't have some plans so hear me out as I sway

You don't want blue cataracts, wouldn't that be anti-swell?

You've got nothing else going on, so you all might as well!

We can't give up, at least not yet

We gotta try, I can't lose this bet

We're the only ones capable

Of ending this blue fable

So we mustn't stall, our big night

This so counts as a fight

Take your nearest hand, bop it on your closest head

Loyalty or no dignity, not both or we'll be dead

It's our duty to fight back, after borders came to dwell

When else does this ever happen, so we all might as well,

Might as Well!

Stand up and unite

Our strength combined can take the fight
Because it's up to us, and with some luck, we'll watch the border's demise
And if unaware before, prepare yourself 'cause this is war!
There's not much time, before we incline
Forever Borderline!
